All Sponsorship Levels Welcome

OUR SEASON

Methow Arts carefully curates a season of performances that enrich, educate, entertain and challenge audiences. A wide variety of performances are selected that appeal to a broad audience diverse in age and sensibilities.

FREE TICKETS & ACCESSIBILITY

Methow Arts increases accessibility by providing free event tickets to clients of the Cove food bank, Room One and the Methow Senior Center and to event volunteers. Many performances are presented free to students in schools.

EDUCATION

Our annual presenting series reaches not only our local community but also serves over 5,000 students and 350 teachers across Okanogan County . It is part of an Arts Education Partnership that provides learning in the arts to students K-12.

SPONSOR RECOGNITION

We thank our sponsors in the following ways depending on level:
Thank you from the stage, Name recognition on posters,

METHOW ARTS PRESENTS...

OCTOBER 3

The SuperSones: Cuban Son Music
Family and dancing-friendly music presented in collaboration with MVSTA's fall Mountain Bike Fest. Opened by local musicians. At the Winthrop Barn.

JANUARY 9

Miss Rose and her Rhythm Percolators:
Vintage Jazz of the 1920's and 30's
A winter escape to the glitzy under world of the speakeasy. Dinner, dancing, and an opportunity to learn about and support the arts. At the Winthrop Barn.

OCTOBER 16

Glenis Redmond: Performance Poet
Steeped in Afro-Carolinian roots, she speaks a universal tongue of love, loss, celebration, sorrow and hope. Her verse uplifts family, culture and community. Seven school performances, workshops and public performances. Soup and Poetry night opened with students reading their own works. At the Cinnamon Twisp Bakery.

FEBRUARY 20

Wanderlust Circus:
Acrobats and aerialists, contortionists and clowns, magicians and musicians, puppeteers and pyrotechnics, the Wanderlust Circus combines vintage elegance with modern flare to create a 21st century spectacle worthy of the Old World. In collaboration with MVSTA's Olympic Celebration week. At the Winthrop Barn.

NOVEMBER 21

Missoula Children's Theatre: Pinocchio
The charming tale of Pinocchio, the wooden puppet who longed to become a real live boy, performed with more than 50 local students cast as Pinocchio, the Blue Fairy, Jiminy Cricket, the villainous Fox and the mischievous Cat. Elementary and Preschoolers encouraged to attend this great first theatre experience. At Methow Valley Elementary.

APRIL 17

Faustwork: Mask Theatre and arts education celebration. Standup-physical theatre and comedy, brimming with wisdom and insight, even though many members of the audience are laughing too hard to notice. Seven school shows, plus mask making and performance workshops. Public show includes opening performance by students. At the Winthrop Barn.

DECEMBER 11

The Kinsey Sicks: Dragapella Beautyshop Quartet
A feast of music and comedy and a little bit of holiday cheer. Award-winning a cappella singing, sharp satire and over-the-top drag. This is an adult show. At the Winthrop Barn.
