

abandoned tree
liliana hart-beck

alone

standing
everyone is gone
the humans,
took them all away
hacked them
down
uprooted them
from the base

counting the days
all alone
to finally fall far

to stand here abandoned hoping that someone will return for me

but they do not
no one comes to relieve me

of this solitude
presented to me
on a silver platter
in all its splendor
and i welcome the heartache

After all,

I am the only one
