

Chunk O' Granite

by Eden Davis

Standing tall and proud, water shirking being Shaving away uncared layers
Until submerged in frigid agony
Wishing for life anew

Cascading over wearing body
Shaving away years of life
Until nothing but a forgotten essence
In a stream of dying bodies

Whittling down through torrents of abuse
Shaving away the last protection
Until a roaring drip is all it takes,
To make microscopic and irrelevant.